

The Never Alone Network was developed to address common issues that children ages six and up experience while growing up in a military family.

Challenges

The Comfort Crew wants military kids to know they are not alone. Our mission is to ensure every military child receives the best tools, strategies, and technology to prepare them for challenges and have a positive impact on themselves, their family, and our country.

How We Help

The Never Alone Network is designed to let military kids know — we are With You All the Way! We meet one-on-one with military kids and create a safe environment where they can be free to express how they are feeling in front of their peers. The With You All the Way! Tour and Camp Hero are two programs that show military kids that they are never alone.

Since 2010, the With You All the Way! Tour, sponsored by the USO, has visited over 100,000 military kids, sharing Trevor's vital yet upbeat message and emphasizing the importance of caring for one another and developing valuable strategies for dealing with the unique challenges of military life. Military kids at each tour stop receive a kit containing Trevor's award-winning animated series, journal, and companion materials.

Camp Hero for Military Kids focuses on physical, social, and emotional resiliency, creating an environment that promotes a peer-to-peer culture of support. Military Kids engage in social games, journaling, arts and crafts, and physical exercise.

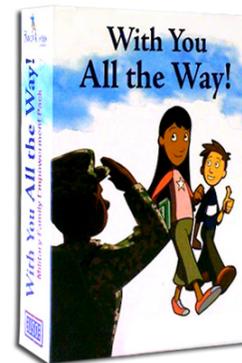

The Never Alone Network programs focus on helping youth express and cope with the emotions that are often exacerbated by military life. These feelings are recognized and understood, while at the same time they are offset by encouraging and supportive messages.
