Together Again!
Helping military families reconnect

The Together Again (TAGN)! Helping Military Families Reconnect Program was developed to address common issues that children ages 6 and up experience when a family member is deployed and then returns home. After a prolonged separation everyone has changed! Learning how to live together again and function as a family does not happen automatically.

The Comfort Crew wants military kids to know they are not alone. Our mission is to provide programs and resources to help military kids and their family connect and build resiliency in the face of extraordinary challenges.

The Together Again! Helping Military Families Reconnect Kit can be requested online at www.comfortcrew.org/resources. Once the information has been verified and approved, the Comfort Kit will be shipped directly and at no cost to the military family.

- Follow up support every 45 days for a year following the delivery of the kit: Video on how to most effectively utilize the kit components, Survey for collecting data on our impact, coloring pages, and other recommended resources.
